Exercise 1

Ground the executive brief

© 2026 Teerasej Jiraphatchandej. All rights reserved.

What Copilot does

01 You describe the task.

02 Copilot uses available context to produce a response or proposed work.

03 You review the result.

© 2026 Teerasej Jiraphatchandej. All rights reserved.

Writing Effective Prompt

© 2026 Teerasej Jiraphatchandej. All rights reserved.

Write an effective prompt

Goal	Context	Source	Expectations
• What do you want Copilot to do?	• Why do you need it and who is involved?	• Where should Copilot look for information?	• How should Copilot deliver the answer?

© 2026 Teerasej Jiraphatchandej. All rights reserved.

A useful request

Goal	a short leadership brief
Context	Asteria’s service review
Source	the two selected files (Explicit mention or WorkIQ)
Expected result	facts, assumptions and open questions

© 2026 Teerasej Jiraphatchandej. All rights reserved.

Work IQ and grounding

Grounding: connect the request to relevant source material.

Work IQ: enrich the request with permitted work context.

What the AI app sends to the model

The app combines instructions, chat history, the latest user message, and other context before asking the model for a reply.

Exercise 3

Outlook and Copilot Chat

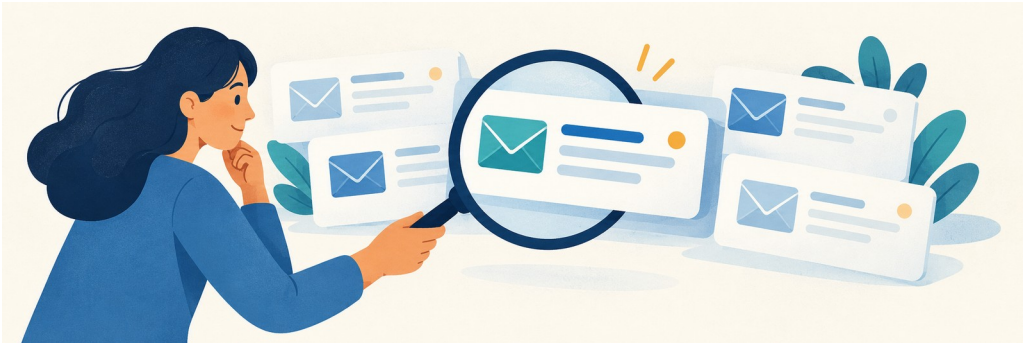

Find the source. Check the meaning.
Refine the reply.

© 2026 Teerasej Jiraphatchandej. All rights reserved.

Email me Facebook YouTube

1 · Select the relevant thread

Start with the correct source.

Find the prepared topic and date. Open a citation in Outlook and select one thread.

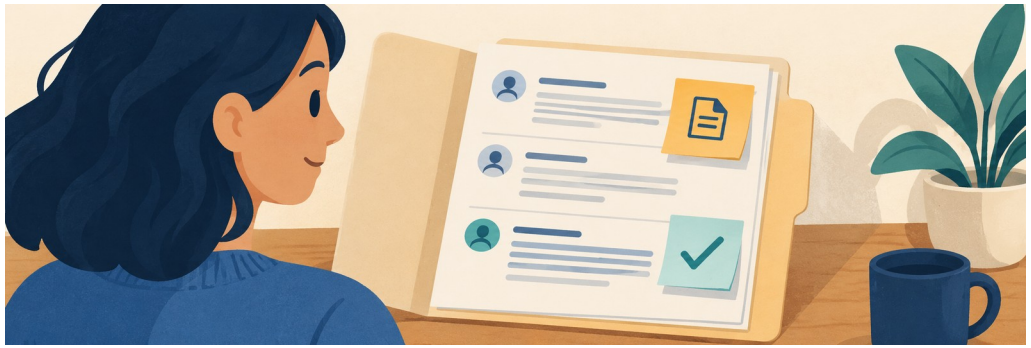

Check: The subject and date match. You have opened the source.

No suitable thread? Use Asteria_Email_Thread.docx in a separate Chat.

2 · Check the summary

Understand the request and latest status.

Summarize the selected thread. Check the main request, latest status and unanswered questions.

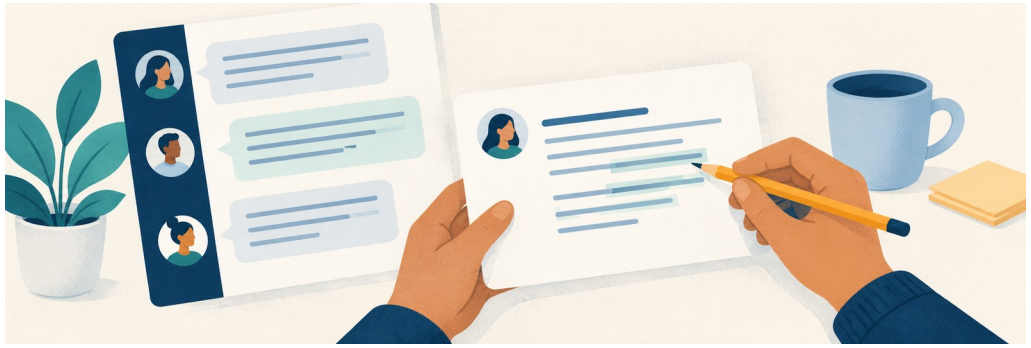

Check: Source messages support the summary; proposals stay separate from agreements.

Mark missing information “To confirm”. Keep real-work results private.

3 · Draft, refine and keep it unsent

Answer clearly without inventing commitments.

Draft a concise reply. Refine it, then check recipients, facts and the next step.

Check: The draft answers the request and adds no promises. Explain one useful revision.

12 minutes drafting/refinement + 5 minutes final checking · Do not select Send.

Exercise 4

Teams and Word

From meeting evidence to a useful follow-up brief.

© 2026 Teerasej Jiraphatchandej. All rights reserved.

Email me Facebook YouTube

1 · Confirm the meeting source

Know which meeting you are using.

Check the title, date and occurrence. Open Recap or the transcript and confirm it is readable.

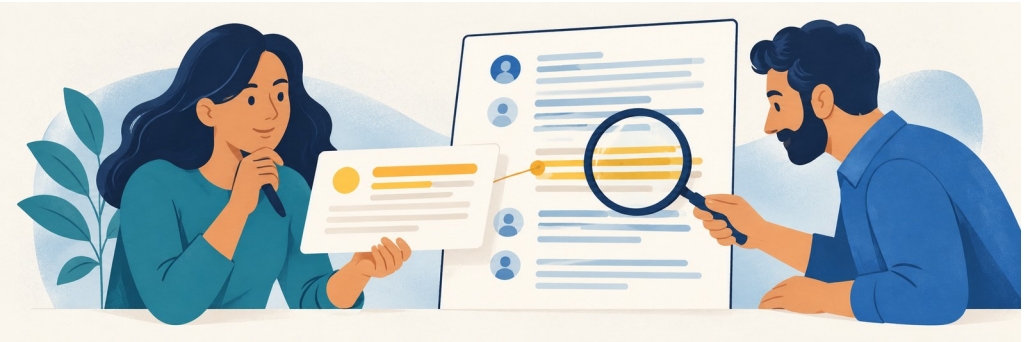

Check: You can read what was said—or clearly identify your source as synthetic.

A title or attendee list is not a transcript. Do not change policy to gain access.

Open learner instructions ↗️ Asteria fallback ↗️

© 2026 Teerasej Jiraphatchandej. All rights reserved.

2 · Ask, then verify the evidence

Separate decisions, proposals and missing information.

Ask for a short summary and follow-up table. Open citations to check one decision and one action.

Check: Action, owner and date match the transcript. Keep “Proposed” and “To confirm”.

Meeting chat or calendar information alone does not verify spoken content.

Open learner instructions ↗️

© 2026 Teerasej Jiraphatchandej. All rights reserved.

3 · Create the Word follow-up brief

Make checked meeting results usable.

Create four sections: Summary, Confirmed decisions, Action plan and Open questions.

Check: Word opens; all four sections and one checked action row retain the source meaning.

10 minutes creating + 3 minutes verifying · Keep real-work results private.
